Call for Restraint After Melbourne Shooting

The International Coalition for Women in Shooting and Hunting (WiSH) has called for restraint following this morning's shooting in Melbourne

WiSH Chairwoman Dr Samara McPhedran said "At this stage there are no clear facts, and until these emerge it would be inappropriate for anyone other than official sources to make further comment."

"People are tired of seeing politicians engage in point scoring at the expense of decency."

"It is certain that gun prohibitionists will, as always, use this event to push their own political barrow, but that is simply headline chasing. There is a time and place for legislative discussion and lobbying, and that time is not today."
